Google Site Web page

Question: How do I get my Google site posted as my web page?

Answer provided by Lee Nelson

After you create your Google Sites you put an html file (named index.html) in your W: or S: webpages drive.

This index.html file is a simple web page with a redirect script in it. See my Google Sites page that has directions for using the redirect script, and an attached copy of the redirect script (bottom of the page).

Google Calendar

If you see this question when opening Google calendar answer NO!

Do you want to view only the webpage content that was delivered securely?

If you answer yes this will prevent you from seeing the background and changing settings on the calendar.

Turn protection off and log-in.

Start → Run → Settings → Control Panel (should be in classic view)

Administrative Tools → Services → click on the Background Intelligent Transfer Service

Start the service, then right click on BITS and select properties → change startup to Automatic.

Thanks to Michael Pogue at Irving for finding the fix.

This setting is part of the Intelligent Classroom image and does not need to be made on these laptops.

Access to nps.###@norman.... ### = your school site code

Need access to your school e-mail group? Nps.100@norman.k12.ok.us. You don't have to wait to be added to a list. Since we moved to Google Mail this Service is automatically setup and anyone in the group nps.100@normna.k12.ok.us should be able to send to that address.
