

Note: Robert Cason was a band director in Norman. He passed away in the summer of 2005 after an 8-year battle with leukemia. We miss him greatly and would like to keep his dream alive. - jm

During his over two decade teaching career Robert always had a dream. He believed every child should be able to participate in band – regardless of ability to pay. Instrument fees, contest and uniform costs and lack of access of learning about music should not stop a child from developing a love of music.

He also believed the work of our teachers should be enhanced by the brilliance of guest conductors and music prepared specifically for our students.

Thanks to the generosity of Norman, Robert’s dream is almost realized. The Robert Cason Instrumental Music Endowment Fund now has $12,000 dollars. To make this fund sustainable, we need to raise $13,000 more. Robert always stressed the importance of making this opportunity last is to secure the nest egg that allows for yearly grants and gifts as well as perpetual growth.
